

Dears,

Poznan University of Life Sciences is realizing the project "The Best in nature! The Integrated Development Program of the Poznan University of Life Sciences". The project is co-financed by the European Union under the European Social Fund and the Operational Program Knowledge Education Development (Action 3.5 Comprehensive university programs).

As part of this project, we have planned some lectures for our students, which are to be conducted by foreign lecturers, experts in the field.

At this moment, we are looking for well experienced lecturers for the below mentioned courses and lectures:

- 1. Passive Earth Observations: new platforms, sensors and approaches
26h of lectures + 20h of practical exercises
- 2. Application of Geo-informatics to natural hazards mapping and monitoring
20h of lectures + 40h of practical exercises

Both courses should take place till February 2021 and they will be repeated in the next academic year for new groups of students.

Because of pandemic time, we recommend online courses using MS Teams, ZOOM or other educational platforms. However, if it's necessary and will be possible concerning WHO recommendations we will be pleased to host you at our University in Poznan.

We offer you:

- salary dependent on academic achievements and average university salaries in the country of origin;
- covering travel costs;
- accommodation in 3* hotel in Poznan;
- board.

If you are interested and willing to participate in our international project, please do not hesitate to contact us. Tell us about your scientific background and achievements together with your expected rate per teaching hour (45 min) and dates when you wish to provide the course.

All the courses can be provided at any time suitable for You. The course schedule will be very flexible to be sure that the above courses will have absolute priority.

Those of you who are interested – please submit your offer to Katarzyna Paczkowska katarzyna.paczowska@up.poznan.pl with the CC to Radosław Juszcak radoslaw.juszcak@up.poznan.pl

Attached there is a short description of the courses. All topics can be modified.

Best regards,
Radek
